

Deployment and licensing

neuro | 1.0 | EN

Editions

The platform has a source-based development edition and a separate closed self-hosted edition. The public website is an independent information site and does not expose the working platform.

Licensing

The closed edition validates signed licenses. Duration, delivery scope and usage rights are defined by the license agreement. Source code, private keys and license issuance tools are excluded from the public website.