

Functional characteristics

neuro | 1.0 | EN

Training and analysis

Labeled feature preparation; sound, vibration, motion, temperature and jerk processing; multilayer perceptron training and classification evaluation.

Embedded execution

Int8 weight quantization, parameter export for the C engine, local classification and output-layer adaptation using correct labels. Support for a specific device depends on integration and validation.